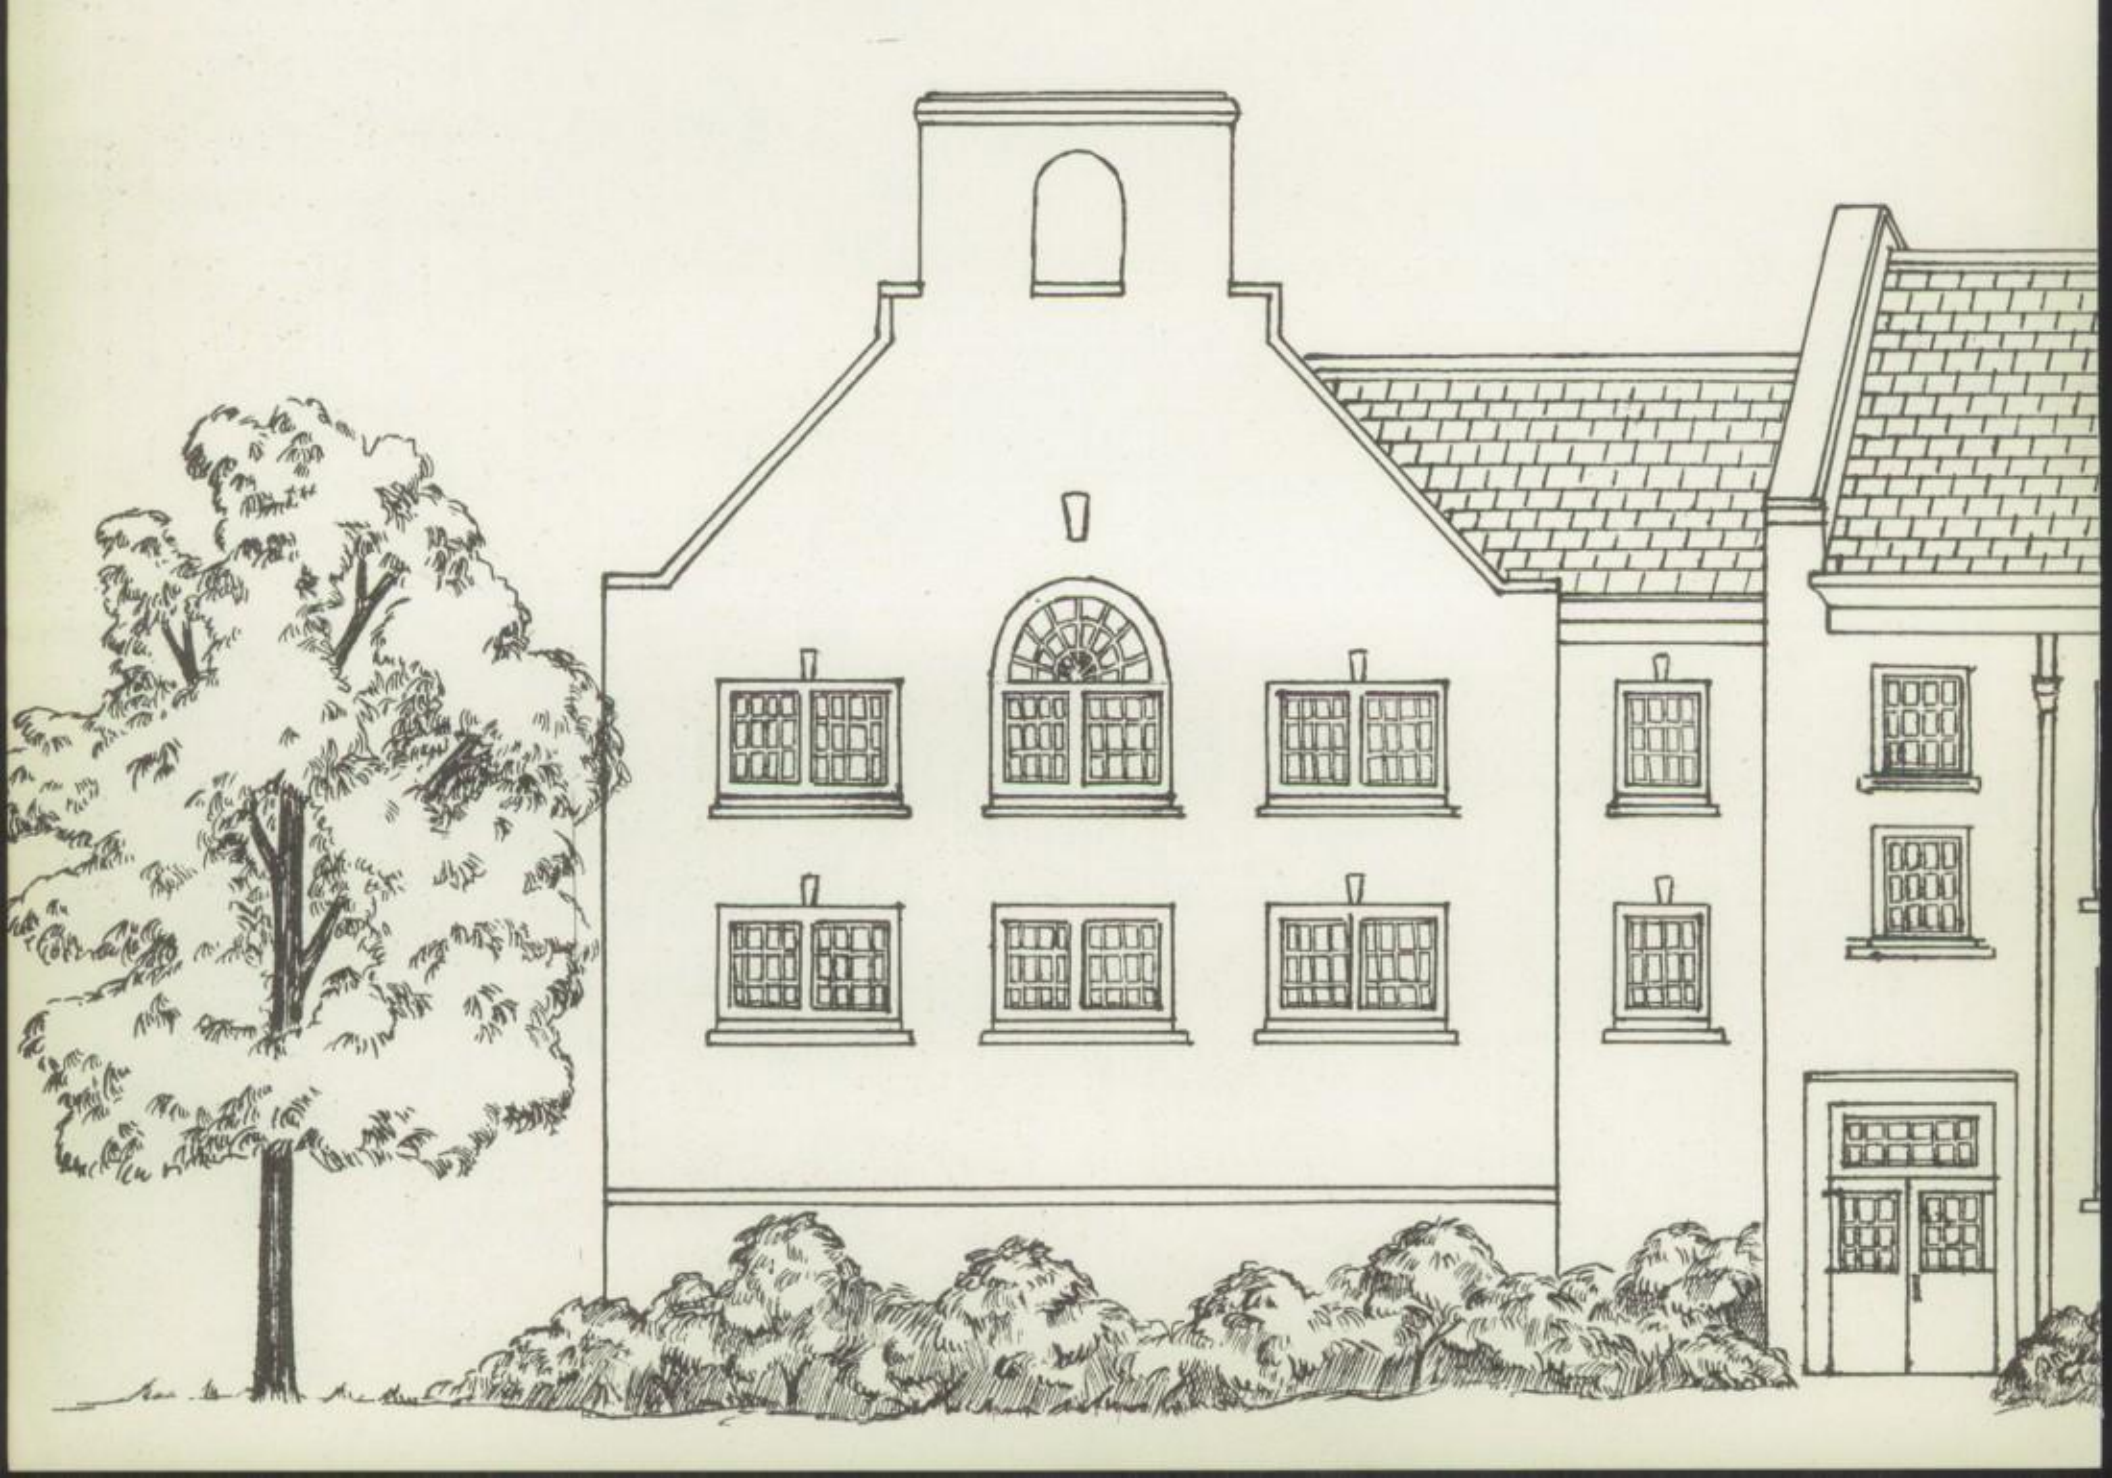
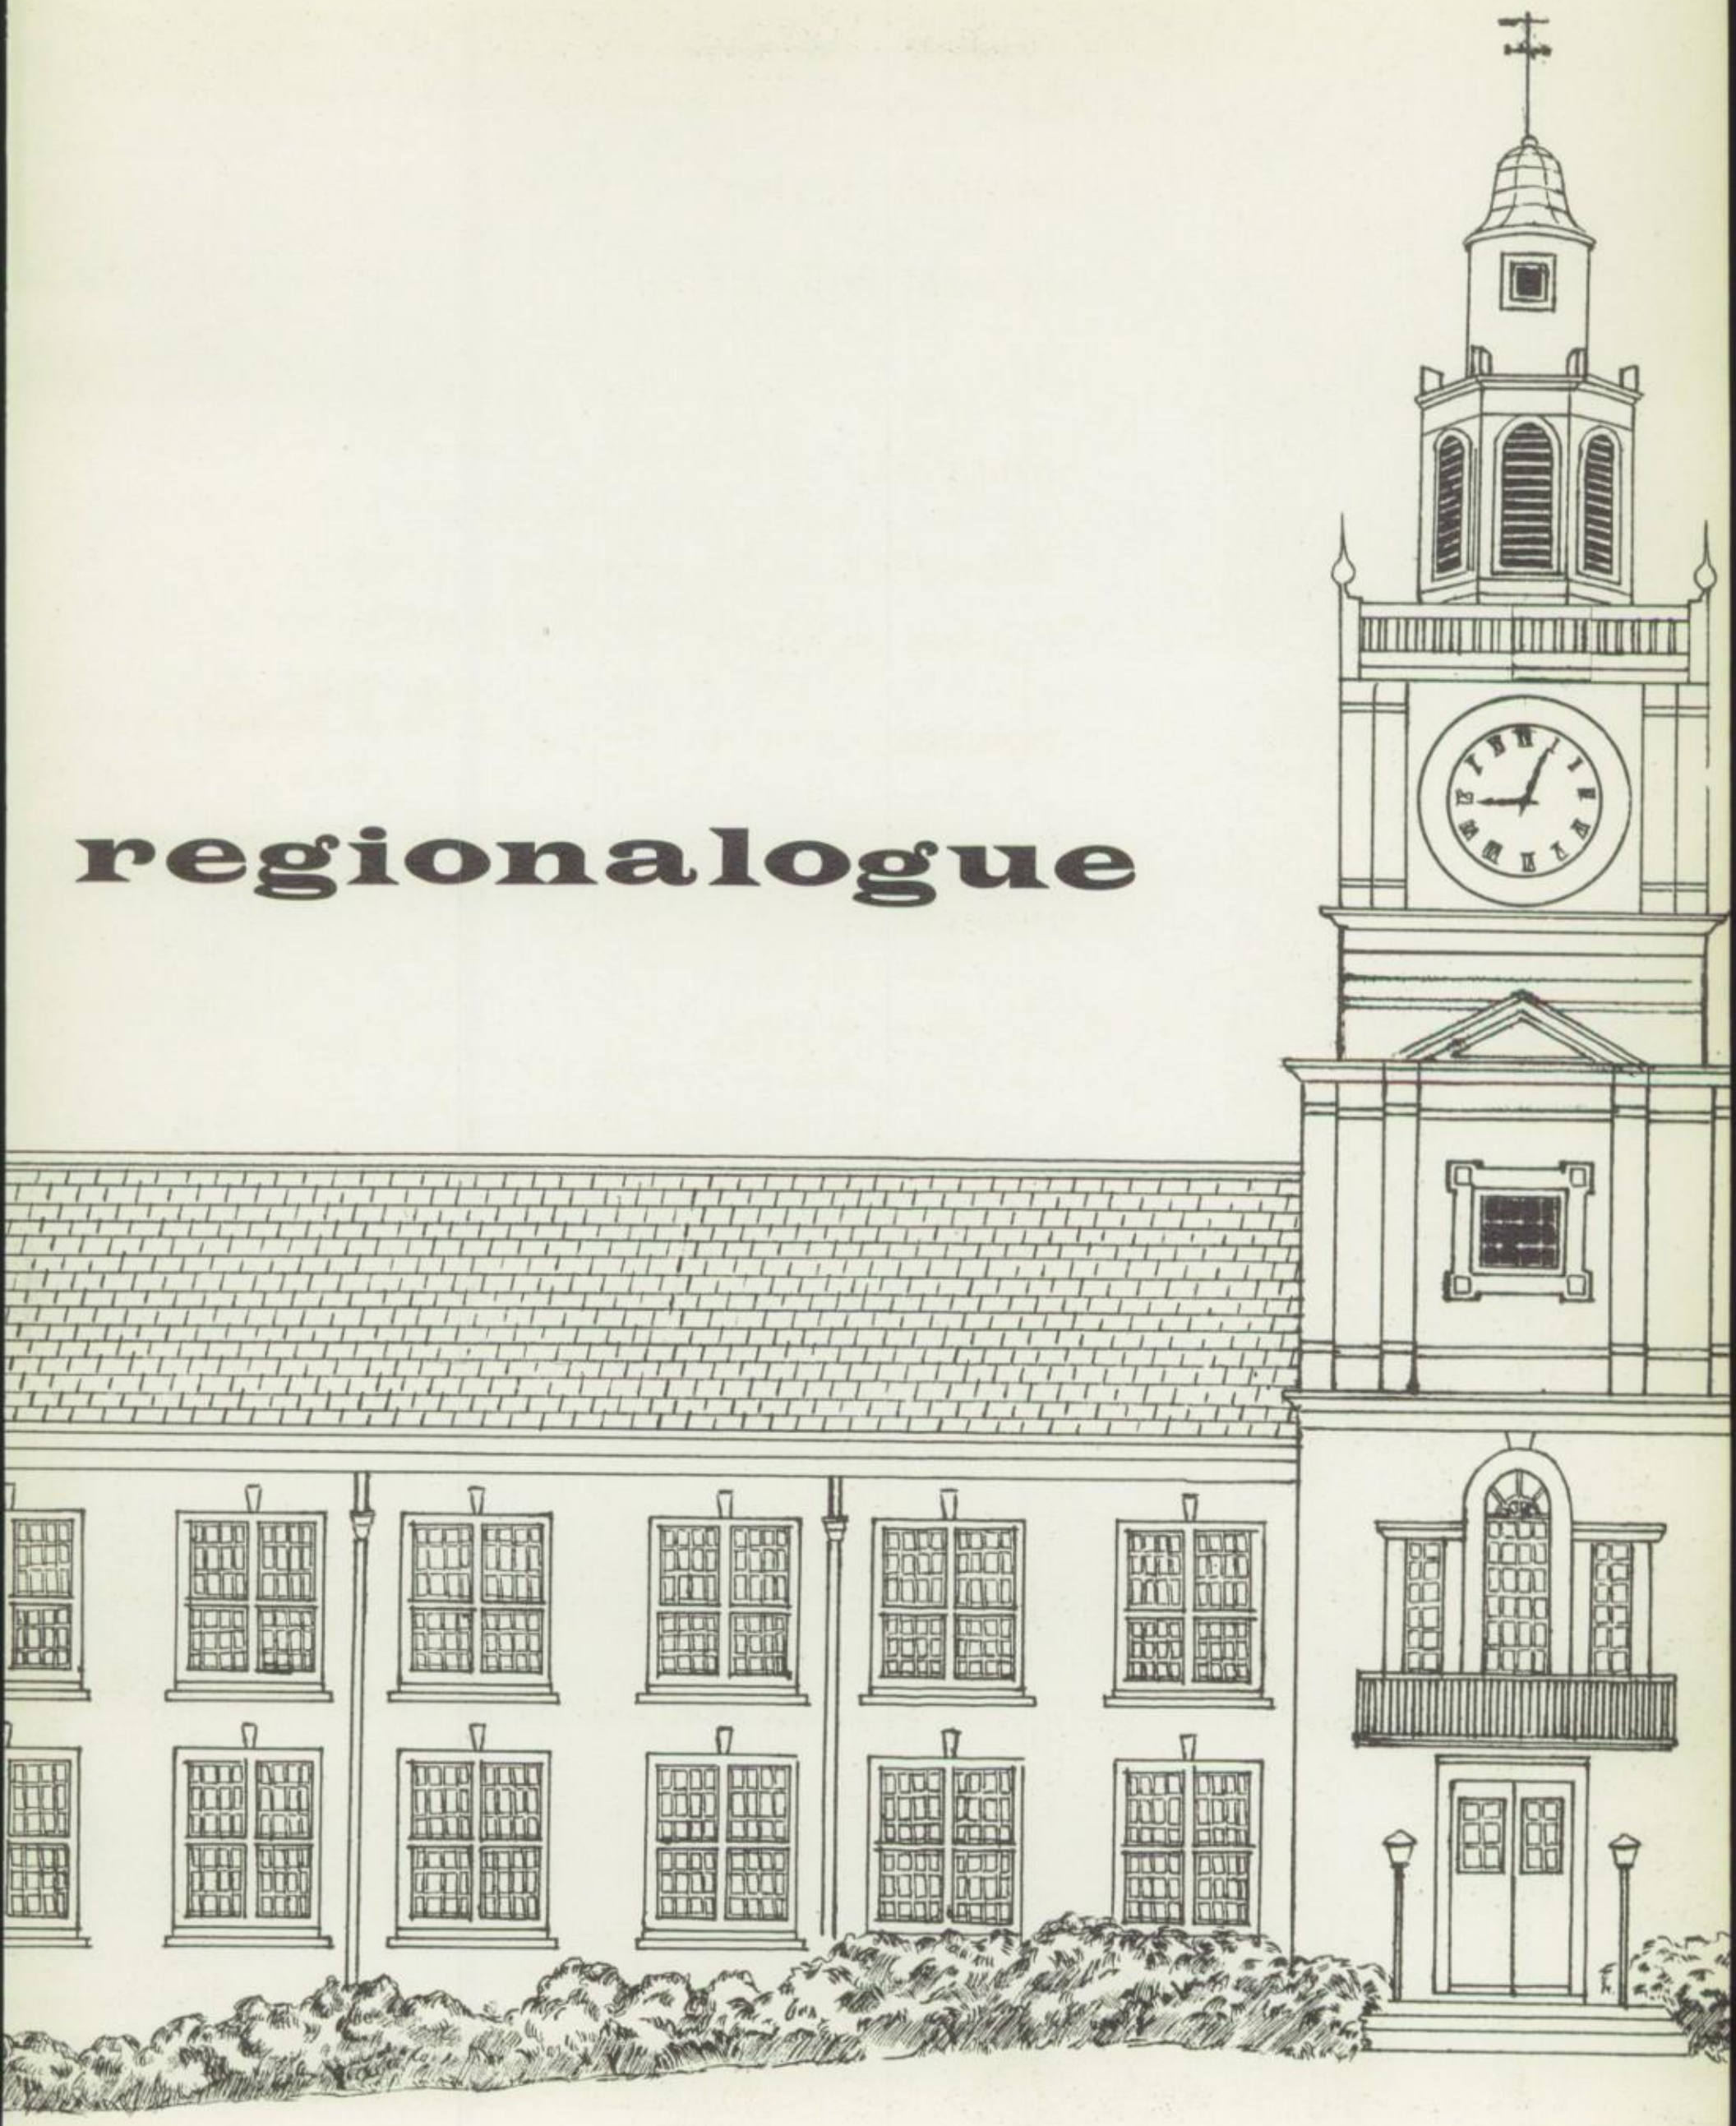
the 1959



regionalogue



Regional's 1958-59 school year was greeted with the usual mixed feelings of excitement and apprehension. The entering freshman were awed and a little frightened by the newness of their surroundings. The sophomores rejoiced in their new position, and found it hard to believe they were once freshmen. "Did I ever look like that?" The juniors held their heads a little higher as they became upperclassmen, and the seniors luxuriated in the prestige they gained with the title "Senior". "We finally made it!"

As the year progressed, we settled down to the serious task ahead, the task of obtaining the best possible education in preparation for the future. A marked increase of interest in academic pursuits was illustrated by the response to the advanced math classes, and a new course called Chemistry 2.

Regional High School embarked on a new and unique program of Saturday classes this year. Designed especially for college-bound seniors, the course covered study-habits, reading improvement, and preparation for the ever-threatening College Board Exams. In spite of competition from heavy Friday night dates and football games, 100 seniors participated in the Saturday program.

This year saw the introduction of the one-way stairwells, the encouragement and success of Dress-Up Day, and the introduction of Saturday night dances. What comes to your mind when you think back over the past year? Do you remember the great discussions you had with Miss Kelly or Mr. Kaplan in English class, or the bull-sessions spent talking religion with Mr. Karnoutsos? Remember that "Rally Big Rally", complete with "Marylee" Stuver leading the twirlers? The next day the Bulldogs played that fateful game against Rahway, with Coach Suchena on the bench for the last time. Can't you still recall the thrill of dancing with your one-and-only at the Junior Prom, and the rustle of the audience as the curtain went up on the Senior Play?

Perhaps you remember staying up all night to finish your history term paper, or the sheer agony of cramming for those horrible final exams! But, regardless of what things you choose to remember most vividly, we're sure you'll agree with us when we say that, "This was a memorable year."

in dedication

MISS ANN ROMANO

Because it was you, Miss Romano, who through the years, gave to us through your love, guidance, patience, and understanding those memorable intangibles which could be bestowed on us by you alone, we wish to offer to you this recognition of our appreciation.

The seasons of the year serve as a manifestation of these—your special gifts to us. The crackling autumn bonfire signifies the warmth of your love; the winter snowstorm, building out of diminutive flakes architecture unsurpassed, reminds us of the guidance which, in the form of little suggestions, has built out of us men and women; the first robin of spring, personifies your patience so constantly possessed; the sleeping green fields of summer are to us the quiet and understanding we received through the year.

Thus, as the theme, Our Year, is so commensurate with our gratitude, we, the Class of '59, dedicate to you, Miss Romano, our yearbook, The Regionalogue.

jonathan dayton regional high school.

Death is all about us, and has been taken for granted and become as commonplace as the light switch on the wall. It seems strange that a depressing and final event can be taken and forgotten. However, death is a conversation piece only until it strikes close, as it has for us so recently. Most of us were shocked into awareness by the saddening passing of one of our most popular teachers, M. Claire Kelly.

Miss Kelly was a teacher, a wonderfully popular teacher. She was a teacher of the first order. Her classes became the most interesting and absorbing of those throughout the day. You might read and investigate, but you would not learn as you did in Miss Kelly's classes; in her elaborations you would come to understand your subject in fine detail: the minute fragments magnified, enlarged, analyzed.

She was a teacher, yes; but more, she was your friend. She never failed to surprise us with divers talents, with an indomitable sense of geniality and merriment irradiating from somewhere deep within. Never somber or moody to any measureable extent, she always retained the irreparable facility of being able to make you smile whenever you might be in contact with her, regardless of any underlying ill-nature on your part.

She was a blithe personality whose effect went beyond the classroom; a figure who remains one of the most pleasant ever encountered; a person constantly concerned with the well being of those even remotely associated. And then, to be suddenly wrenched from existence as violently as was she, makes one wonder.

The teacher may have been removed, but the lesson that is the fond memory we retain still, will further retain, and for much time to come.

in memoriam

Miss Kelly

It's fair for her to rest between
Some of these old aphonic walls,
And fair too that her place is green
With all the rain and dew that falls.

It's sure the organ's soundless moans
Must rise and flare about her rest,
And almost in her ear should lie
The prayers of those she loved the best.

It's further right this air is stirred
By nature's voices fierce and low,
By thunder and the chirping bird,
And grasses whisp'ring as they grow.

For all her spirit's earthly path
Was as a lesson and a sign
How to o'errule the harsh divorce
Which splits things peaceful and divine.

Undaunted by the banks of fear,
Undazzled by a happy day,
She made a heaven about her here,
And took how much! with her away.

Regional's Bulldogs had a record for the season of three wins and six losses. For the past four years the team has been coached by Coach Michael Suchena, who at the end of the season resigned his position as head football coach. A great job was done this year by Chip Skousen, Gerry Greenberg, Alan Stenfors, Frank Campano, and the others, especially when the going got tough.

Regional's basketball squad closed the season with a respectable mark of 10-10. They were eliminated in the second round of the County Tournament and the first of the State Tournament.

The entire squad worked hard and deserved to do better. Two of their losses were extremely close, one by only one point. We are proud of the fact that they never gave up, and always were a thrill to watch.

Baseball last year under the direction of Coach Russell Hunchar did very well. With the team work of Don Carpenter, Sonny Haubold, Gerry Sabatini, Butch Rubin, John Kolessar, and many others, the team ended up the season with a record of twelve wins, two losses, and one tie. The team also won all of the games in the tournaments except for one of the final games, which they lost, with a score of one to nothing. An extremely successful season.

Regional's cindermen compiled a record of two wins and seven losses during the 1958 season. The sprinters, headed by C. Wolwowicz and Chip Shousen, carried much of the attack during the nine dual meet season. J. Stuver, R. Walsh, B. Keith and D. Lopanik also contributed heavily to the team's success. Following is a list of the meet scores.

girls' sports

September brings school, and with it sports of all types. For the girls it's "keep that stick below your elbows and the ball on the ground" or "Whoa, horses!" As the cold weather sets in, the girls head indoors to volleyball, basketball, bowling and swimming.

Later, as the weather turns warm and spring begins to show, you will find a mighty slugger at the bat and a Robin Hood on the line. And, if you don't find a girl that isn't sore from one or all of these sports, there is still tennis, golf, and more horseback riding. It was a wonderful year!

rally big rally

Looks as though Jerry was meant to be a majorette.

It was a very enjoyable night—both for the spectators and the participants. The idea of the rally was to promote school spirit, which it did.

Who are those cheerleaders?

This seems to be the question on Coach Suchena's mind. It's plain to see that they are his starting team for the important Thanksgiving game. This was the first year for our "Rally Big Rally" and naturally . . .

Back: N. Weissman, C. Wood, J. Arnold, M. L. Wussler, A. Howe.

The girls had to get into the act—or should we say, into the uniforms? The girls in blue represented Regional as they triumphed over Rahway in a "wild" game of football?—yes, football. At halftime we had more entertainment.

Rally round the flag, boys; it's almost an all girl band at the Rally-Big-Rally.

The football season closed on a brisk Thanksgiving Day. Unfortunately, the fighting Bulldogs went down to defeat against powerful Rahway. In spite of the defeat, the Regional fans packed the stands and exhibited a wonderful school spirit.

When we saw Mary Lee step out onto the football field, we knew that the 1958-59 sports season at Regional had begun. This charming blond miss did an excellent job of managing the twirlers, band, color guard, and drill team, and through her performance, led these representatives of her school in putting on a fine half-time show for the spectators.

Mary Lee, our sparkling majorette.

. . . joing our perky cheerleaders, shouting for our hardworking Bulldogs. The cheerleaders did a wonderful job of boosting school spirit throughout the school year. In addition to their chores on the football field and basketball court, these busy gals turned their talents to training their successors through their work in Cheering Club.

We prided ourselves in watching our Twirlers perform. The charm and enthusiasm of these young ladies, along with the gay colors of their uniforms, added a festive note to our football games. Their invaluable efforts in promoting school spirit at Regional will never be forgotten.

We often watched our Drill Team contribute to the half-time show. These smart young ladies worked hard to perfect their routines and their performances were well worth the effort. Thanks girls, for your endeavors.

We saw many of our students contribute to the Herman Spiesbach Fund. This was a Student Council function for one of our fellow pupils. Herman Spiesbach had an accident and was in a coma for some time. The money collected went toward his doctor's bills.

Dignity was in the air as our Color Guard presented the flag. One of the most valuable contributions of these girls was that of being excellent representatives of their school.

Each year the P.T.A. has its annual Parents Night. This is an opportunity for our parents to visit each one of our classes. Held early in the fall; it always draws a large crowd.

My but you're brave, Miss Bialecki! This year the Mantou Tests for tuberculosis were given at Regional. In previous years we have had the X-Ray tests. The testing program lasted for one day. With a team of doctors and nurses most of the students received the test, and were checked for T.B. It is an efficient and safe test, designed for the benefit of Regional students.

Ranking high among the honors bestowed upon J.D.R.H.S. this year, are the many trophies that the Debate team brought home. Among them, the Northern New Jersey National Forensic League trophy, first place at Temple University, and many awards throughout the state. We can be mighty proud of them. This team will be sent to Florida this summer, to participate in the National Debate Tournament.

All evening we wondered who would be queen. These were the candidates for the honor of our Senior Sweetheart Ball held on February 13th.

We were all delighted when . . .

. . . the Senior boys selected Marge Blanda to be their Senior Sweetheart.

Marge was crowned by our Senior Class President, Don Booker, as the runners-up, Judy Crowley and Sandra Hunt, look on. Marge is holding a beautiful bouquet of red roses presented to her by our Senior Class.

This year's Senior Class has done many things, among them are: the Senior Sports Dance, the Senior Play, the Senior Ball, and they sold Chrysanthemums. All this was accomplished under the advisorship of Mrs. Zelazny and Mr. Kulawiec.

Italy and the Sudan were well represented by Ida and Mohammed. Each year we participate in the N. Y. Herald Tribune's foreign student exchange plan. Shown above are our foreign students and their hosts for the two week period with Miss Romano, sponsor, and Dr. Jacobsen. Ida stayed with Margot, naturally!

The Junior Class, under the advisorship of Mrs. Leshick and Mr. McCabe, sold shakers during the football season and sponsored a cake sale, the money from which was donated to the Herman Speisbach Fund. Their biggest undertaking this year has been the Junior Prom, the social event of the year, which was held again this year at the Martinsville Inn.

This year the Sophomore Class has sponsored two cake sales, and the Sophomore Dance, which was so delightful. The Sophomore Advisors are Miss Bialecki and Mr. Karish.

freshman class officers

Seated: T. Hartz, Miss Rich, D. Kristainsen.
Standing: Mr. Scocca, J. Molluso, F. Hiene.

The Freshman Class Advisors are Miss Rich and Mr. Scocca. Under their direction the Freshmen have sponsored two money raising events in addition to other activities. These money raising occurrances were the Freshman Cake Sale and the Freshman Dance, which we all had such a wonderful time at.

This looks like the desk of one of our active seniors — everything a bit jumbled at first but eventually it will straighten out.

Marge Case, Barbara Leonhardt, Betty Saam, Randi Kristiansen, Nancy Rumsey, Barbara Diamond, Sue Messner, Florence Armstrong.

Spill something, Flo?

This is a typical scene at "chow time" at Regional. These seniors seem to pause long enough from their active schedules to eat and, also, to catch up on the latest news.

We've heard quite a bit about Mr. Karnoutsos's tests. These seniors seem to be puzzled. "Who was the boy that cut down the cherry tree?"

Brrrr . . . It's cold outside. These two don't seem to realize it as they pause to chat during their lunch period. Maybe Kit is asking, "What kind of pie did Mr. Strubbe have today?" Many of our students find their way over to Mr. Strubbe's fountain for lunch.

As it got colder we went indoors for our sports — watching Coach Palmer's boys grapple their way to the top.

visual aides

What would we do without their assistance?

The Visual Aides Assistants, under the direction of Mrs. Stang, is comprised of a group of boys whom the teachers may call on to show films in their classes, if they so desire.

We often hear these voices relaying to us the important notices for the day.

Always willing to lend a helping hand.

If any of you have ever visited the health office, you have seen these girls with their bright smiling faces.

Each of the members spends one period a day in the health office under the guidance of Mrs. Montgomery.

First at the scene!

The Firemen, a new group, was formed this year.

You will find these boys on duty between periods, and during fire and defense drills. They stand at their individual posts to make sure the up and down stairways, an innovation this year at Regional, are used properly, and to see that everything runs smoothly during the practice drills.

Miss Romano heads this group.

We owe a great deal to our library assistants. We always get our book!

The Library Council is headed by Miss Dimmers. Its members daily give of their time to work in the library doing such tasks as: checking books in and out, stacking those books which have been returned to the library, and helping us find any books we can not locate ourselves.

Lights! Action! Camera!

These are the boys that do such seemingly insignificant tasks as raising and lowering the curtain, lighting the stage, and moving the scenery at assembly programs.

Those of you who attended the Senior Play saw the fine job these boys, under the tutelage of Mr. Trinity, did.

Where would we be without them? No tickets, no programs, no cut slips!

The Graphic Arts Club is composed of boys interested in printing tasks under Mr. Grossman's watchful eyes.

"Character, Scholarship, Leadership, Service" . . . need we say more?

Well, perhaps just a little. Here are those, picked by the staff, who embody the academic and non-academic ideals of our generation.

A service organization such as the Key Club is a great asset to our school. The Key-Club sponsored Student-Faculty Game this year was lauded by all but students who . . . I'll save you the pain.

Many problems, such as improving the school's appearance and crowded stairways have been solved by our active Student Council, led by: T. Sheldon, President; M. Breier, Vice-President; F. Armstrong, Secretary; D. Crabtree, Treasurer, and S. Oakman, P.T.A. Representative.

Homeroom 28 outshined all of us when it came to "Dress-up Day" honors. A pennant was their reward for having a top-notch homeroom.

A highlight of the year was the Senior Play. This year Stardust was given on Friday night, March 20. Many weeks before the performance our actors and actresses rehearsed rigorously.

senior play

Backstage before the performance, final touches are put on Madame Defore. Many committees were necessary in the production of the play.

Left to Right: W. Landrigan, J. Field, R. Kappstatter, N. Rumsey, K. Hines, M. L. Stickle.

Judy Anson, whom you can't see, makes up Sue Messner, laughing nervously before going before the flood lights.

We'll always remember Mr. Bach the notorious director. Another scene from Stardust.

Always anxious to show their histrionic ability.

The Dramatics Club is under the supervision of Mr. Trinity.

This year the club has put on an assembly program, attended the play "JB", and during their meetings have put on monologues and pantomimes.

An active group as you can see.

This group is comprised of interested art students. Perhaps among their numbers we have a future Grandma Moses.

You're never left wondering as long as you read the Dayton News.

This year big things happened. The paper again was honored at Columbia. Our wonderful Mr. A. Kropinicki, who became English Department Head, gave way to Mrs. Hahn as advisor.

Scoops ran rampant as editionals were as accomplished as ever. Last minute spots and blurbs and notes of controversy all simmered together gave us meritable publications — all ten of them.

These students meet throughout the year, endeavoring to improve their writing ability.

Jonathan's Journal is our one literary magazine. It is published annually and contains short stories written by some of our own students. Patrons in the form of "Jovial Joes," help to publish this magazine. Last year the Journal took a valued first place in the Columbia Scholastic contest.

The bulb flashes as the Photography Club wheels into action.

Perhaps you have seen these boys walking around with their cameras poised and ready in an instant to take an interesting picture.

This group is sponsored by Mr. Grossman.

We ventured a look at the Science Fair, and what did we see? We saw working models, original concepts and photomicrography. The winners were many. Others were daring enough to enter the Newark Science Fair where Regional took ten of the twenty awards. Next is the National Science Fair and the Westinghouse Science Search. Rumor has it that surprises are in store.

science fair

O-o-o-o-oh! Perhaps I meant whaaat? Nevertheless it's artistic. J. Hartz and M. Wilson, top students in their own right, marvel at the scientific displays exhibited during the Mr. Barclay inspired fair. Instituted just two years ago, this fair has great appeal.

First prize was awarded to Louis Caruso — congratulations. This was but a stepping stone for Louis. On Sunday, April 12, 1959, Louis was seen on the T.V. program "They Speak for Themselves" on which he evinced his scientific know-how. In the Newark Fair our talented lad took highest honors, along with Larry Atkin, Tim Stewart, Alan Sheyet, Herb Belin, and others.

Say, what's Na? Admiring the First Prize winner in Chemistry at our fair are Mr. Barclay and the proud father, Mr. Hohn.

Mr. Hohn who has all the teacher qualities, as we all know, was honored by the Northern Chem. Association as "Teacher of the Month". Our felicitations, Mr. Hohn.

I, Elaine Kern, did not understand one thing at the Science Fair.

This was the first year our Junior Prom was held out of school. We chose the Martinsville Inn as our hideaway on May 2nd. We started a precedent that will be continued this year.

Sue Richey was crowned as Queen of our Junior Prom, "Magic Moments."
